MIDLAND - Once again, the Men of Music presents a family-friendly show with music and antics that will have you laughing all the way home. This year's show is called "On Broadway!" and performances are on April 9 at 8 pm and April 10 at 2 pm and 8 pm in the Little Theatre of Midland Center for the Arts. Tickets cost $13 each and are available online or by calling the Ticket Office at 800-523-7649.

The "guys" who just love to sing delight audiences of all ages with their humorous Spring Show: "On Broadway!" This year, the men gather to reminisce about all the shows that they have worked on together. Of course, they end up singing many beloved show tunes like "There is Nothin' Like a Dame" and "Seventy-Six Trombones." During discussions about Broadway shows on stage, the group decides to put together their own Broadway revue – and so it goes on with many more Broadway and non-Broadway tunes in between. Eventually a "surprise group of singers" joins them and provides the audience with their own special music. Men of Music is directed by Grace Marra with Laurie Habedank, accompanist.

Music Society of the Midland Center for the Arts is a premier, volunteer musical arts organization serving mid-Michigan. It provides volunteers and audiences with exciting, quality musical events, utilizing professionals to educate and develop its talented, community-based participants.
